has ever been devised and one with the sole objective of making human existence itself a Subscription-Based Service.

This is what their 'own nothing and be happy' agenda is in actuality. To create a world where the populations—other than ruthless psychopathic CEOs, bureaucratic tyrants, academic psychotics and the legacy of European aristocracy that is—will subscribe to every facet of existence they require in order to live. Food, shelter, clothing, along with literally everything else. The subscriptions will be based entirely upon a Social Credit System. In that, if you do not satisfy the criteria as outlined by the ruthless psychopathic CEOs, bureaucratic tyrants, academic psychotics and the legacy of European aristocracy to avail of these subscriptions, you will be cut-off from the means to exist, and thus be 'unhappy'.

Your 'happiness' will be dependent upon social and cultural obedience so as to continue to have the means to survive.

However, it would be foolish to believe that the current element of their Great Reset will be their final objective. One thing we know for sure about ruthless psychopathic CEOs, bureaucratic tyrants, academic psychotics and the legacy of European aristocracy is that once an objective is achieved; then boredom sets in and new grand visions are developed. So what will follow the present version of The Great Reset?

Hyper Technotopia: A Dystopian Solution for a Utopian Planet

Virtual reality might be a grim, yet feasible solution to combat ecological destruction and climate change, all while offering an illusion of a utopian existence

If this Level of Evil is Already On the Table then what Awaits Us is a Century from Now?

THE WEF's GREAT RESET II

Imagine the worst and most horrific dystopian science fiction horror story you could conjure up on your darkest days. Where humans are reduced to actual commodities and their well-being is discarded in favour of 'saving the planet'. Imagine in a century from now, what humans are still left and who are not the ruthless psychopathic CEOs, bureaucratic tyrants, academic psychotics and the legacy of European aristocracy being used to extract their nutrients to feed some agricultural process. Once vital, creative, and dynamic humans being bred—or genetically altered while still in the womb—to become blobs lying in a field somewhere having their nutrients seeped into the soil while an AI control system keeps them alive for seventy or eighty years. Maybe even for hundreds of years caught in such a horrific nightmare.

Even worse, their cognitive and psychic faculties are still fully intact so that every day of their horrific existence are fully known to them, and they can neither escape nor can not scream as their vocal chord no longer exist. Just an existence of staring up into the blades of an endless rotating turbine for eight or more decades with the occasional ruthless psychopathic CEOs, bureaucratic tyrants, academic psychotics and the legacy of European aristocracy passing overhead in their private jets or spaceships.

This is the stakes we are playing for when standing up to the Davos criminals. What the ruthless psychopathic CEOs, bureaucratic tyrants, academic psychotics and the legacy of European aristocracy are moving towards is already for beyond the most appalling inhuman vista one could comprehend. This is what they want and this is what the politicians and other establishment figures from your nations want when they fly into Davos for their annual orders and pat on the head.

Own everything and be contented. Destroy your politicians and establishment figures who attended WEF meetings. Your great-grandchildren deserve better than being born as nutrient seepage units for Bill Gates' great grandchildren to look down upon as they fly between one palace and the next. Actually you today deserve better.

The European elites, ie the EU/Davos/WEF crew, will not get their wish. They have powerful enemies within the US elites, and elsewhere, who are grinding Europe into the dirt right now. Admittedly Davos captured the White House with Jo Bii Den. But EU/Davos/WEF have a lot of weak spots that are currently being exploited

Ironically the US Fed under Powell is a key enemy. And with good reason too, the Fed represents the big US Commercial Banks whose role will entirely DISAPPEAR if the Davos/WEF/EU lunatics get their way and implement CBDC. So understandably they will oppose this with everything that they've got. Turkeys never vote for Christmas

See Tom Luongo for the details, he's written loads of articles picking at the bones of all this: <https://tomluongo.me/>

The Fed has the massive advantage of controlling the worlds reserve currency too. The Euro is really just the US$ for Europeans, the baby dollar if you like. There is no doubt who the Daddy is

So the squeeze is on the Euro by the Fed and the Europeans are starting to panic. Their main cash generating economy, Germany, is going down the tubes fast thanks to the destruction of Nordstream. and the lunatic Green zealots who front for Germany, and actually seem to believe in Net Zero! Nobody else does of course, everyone knows that it's all about controlling the plebs The EU is in recession too and no EU economies are currently in good shape

And everything else is turning to shit for them too. Notably Ukraine which is about to become an exclusively European problem when the US declares victory and walks away like it usually does
